Antique Original Red Painted One Door Armoire Cabinet from Germany

This charming single door armoire is in excellent original condition. The case is painted a dark brick red with traditional floral bouquets painted on the front panel and canted sides. The blues, creams and red show a deeper patina aged through the years. The original lock mechanism still works, make note of the original wrought iron hinges as well. The interior hanging rods with small carved wood pegs attached were traditional elements as well. This German shrunk is sold as is, how we found it in Europe. Marks, dings, signs of wear are expected. Please enlarge and examine close up photos to appreciate the details of this lovely original painted antique armoire.
