Antique Italian Renaissance Style 4' Console Entryway Table With Drawer

Beautiful lines define this striking Italian Renaissance style console table. Crafted in pine, the white painted finish has been scraped and distressed to reveal the pinewood below, adding character and depth to the finish while highlighting carved details. The double turned pedestals rest on a raised base adding to its powerful visual appeal. Note the single drawer with no pull, almost hidden among the carved details of the table skirt. The pine top and base reveal old cracks, stains and scratches that do not impact the strength nor function of the table but add to the aged grace and charisma of this lovely 4' console or entryway table. Condition is solid and ready for use.
