Antique Rustic Work Table With Two Drawers from Hungary circa 1880

Rustic work table or shop counter with two drawers and residual red paint remaining on legs.

This heavily used table reflects generations of use in every gouge, nick, scratch, hole and stain. Typical aged separation of planks.

Metal rods add an industrial feel this table that may also serve as a kitchen island (could be raised up on casters, etc).

Restored, strong and stable this table is ready to be used. The wax finish adds to the rich, deep patina of the rugged top. Please refer to professional photos for clear understanding of condition, color and details.
