Early 19th Century Swedish Gustavian White Painted Long Bench

Early 19th century Swedish Gustavian long bench crafted in pine. Turned and carved spindles form the sides and back, with this pattern echoed in the turned front legs. Four finials adorn the back.

The antique white painted finish has been lightly scraped and distressed, revealing natural wood beneath and adding to the aged character of the piece.

The bench currently presents with a deconstructed look, featuring aged raw linen along the sides, back, and cushion. Exposed threads, nails, and staining are visible. The bench frame is solid and ready for the buyer to upholster in a fabric of their choice.

Measuring approximately 7.5 feet in length, this graceful bench offers a substantial presence.

Seat Height: 18.25"

The frame has been restored and is stable and ready for use. Minor cracks, nicks /dings, etc. are reflective of generations of use.
