19th Century Danish Gray Painted Pine Cabinet Cupboard with Glass Upper Doors

19th century Danish cabinet cupboard crafted in pine. The cabinet features a newer professionally applied light gray painted finish with antique white undertones.

The upper section includes glass pane doors designed to display a collection and opens to reveal interior shelving.

The lower section consists of two drawers over two cabinet doors, each decorated with fluted carved diamond details.

Additional simple carved accents appear along the sides. The lower cabinet opens to reveal a single interior shelf.

The cabinet has been restored and is strong, stable, and ready to use. The original key and lock are present but operate stiffly; the buyer may choose to use the key as a pull only.

Separation of planks and minor cracks are visible throughout, including within the lower section.

Typical age-related cracks, scratches, nicks, and slight separation around cabinet doors are visible but do not impact the function or overall appeal. The pine reveals signs of old dried inactive wormholes.

Please refer to professional photos for clear understanding of color, condition, and details; photo lighting, individual monitor display and home lighting all impact how item is viewed. Photos are part of item description, please ask questions or request additional photos of specific areas if needed.
