Late 19th Century Swedish Black Painted Pine Two-Drawer Table

Late 19th century Swedish table crafted in pine and fitted with two drawers. The table stands on tapered legs and features a later applied black painted finish that has been rubbed and distressed, revealing natural pine beneath and complementing the age and character of the piece.

The table has been restored and is strong, stable, and ready to use.

The top shows old cracks, nicks, and scratches consistent with years of use. The interior drawer bottoms show old stains and nicks, and one knot in the wood has fallen out, creating a small hole in the right drawer.
