19th Century Pine 16 Drawer Apothecary Counter Console

Fun and function combine in this pine counter with 16 drawers. This delightful pine apothecary originally served as a shop counter or storage cabinet.

Counters similar to this were used throughout shops in Europe and are a great way to incorporate old world charm and craftsmanship into a modern home. The scuffs, nicks, stains, and minor cracks (see top) all reflect generations of use and add to its aged character.

This 5' long pine counter is ready to be used as it has been restored, waxed and all drawers function.

Three different sizes of drawers with wood pulls present flexible storage for buyer. Note the bottom front is inset from the drawers. Separation of planks seen along the back. Some signs of dry, inactive wormholes seen along lower front edge.

All scratches, cracks, dings, stains and age related separation are reflective of age and do not detract from the appeal nor function of this old pine apothecary cabinet.
