Early 19th Century Swedish Gustavian Cartel Giltwood Wall Clock with Eagle and Angels By Cederlund

This early 19th Century Gustavian cartel wall clock was crafted by Cederlund of Stockholm with both gilded and painted wood. It features an eagle crest, fluted fan motif around a circular dial, stylized scrollwork, and a hand painted lower glass panel which portrays angels, birds and more. Gold gilt, burnished reds, blue and antique white tones all combine for a beautiful presentation. Note the small glass compartment directly under the clockface opens with a small pull to reveal petite storage or display.

Wood case is solid, stable and ready to hang. Clockworks do not function; any clockworks available will be shipped with the wall clock. Minor cracks, age-related separations are seen but do not impact the function nor appeal of this striking clock.
