19th Century Large Gray Painted Pine Bookcase Display Cabinet from Denmark

19th century large bookcase display cabinet from Denmark, crafted in pine. The cabinet has a newer white and gray painted finish that has been lightly scraped to reveal natural pine below. Layers of both white and gray are present depending on the lighting, though the overall appearance reads as gray. The shelving configuration is especially unique and allows for fabulous display of books, collections, or decorative objects. Simple fluted carving vertically decorates portions of the case, adding understated detail to the form. Minor cracks, scratches, and nicks are seen throughout and are typical for age. Cracks and age-related separation are also visible along the back. Built in two sections for easier transportation and installation. Restored, strong, stable, and ready to use and enjoy.
