Early 20th Century Danish Waxed Pine Chest of Four Drawers

Early 20th century Danish chest of four drawers, crafted in pine with simple clean lines and softly curved front corners. A natural wax finish enhances the warmth and variation of the pine, while traditional front bun feet complete the understated Scandinavian form.

Four functioning drawers open with hanging brass handles, providing generous storage. There are no locks or keys.

Minor age related cracks and nicks are visible along the top, with additional nicks throughout. Residual signs of old wormhole activity are visible toward the bottom and feet but are no longer active. Age related separation and some cracking are also present along the back.

Restored, stable, waxed, and ready to use.
