19th Century Danish Pine Sideboard with Arched Panel Doors

19th century Danish sideboard, crafted in pine with a warm wax finish that highlights the natural color and character of the wood. One large upper drawer sits above two cabinet doors with arched panels, while simple decorative details accent the sides and traditional bun feet support the cabinet. The combination of an upper drawer and enclosed lower cabinet provides practical storage within a classic Scandinavian country form.

Typical signs of age include minor nicks and scratches throughout. Age related separation, appearing as cracks, is visible along both doors, the left side, and lower trim. The right side also shows old cracks and an old knot that was filled at an earlier point in time. Residual signs of old dried wormhole activity are visible along the bottom, sides, and interior base but are no longer active.

Restored, stable, waxed, and ready to use. Please refer to professional photos for clear understanding of color, condition, and details; photo lighting, individual monitor display and home lighting all impact how item is viewed. Photos are part of item description, please ask questions or request additional photos of specific areas if needed.
