18th-Century Original Hand-Painted Swedish Dalarna Cabinet Dated 1799

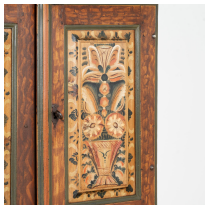

Original hand-painted Swedish Dalarna cabinet dated 1799, crafted from pine and retaining its authentic folk-art finish. The exterior features traditional Dalarna rosemaling painting executed in earth tones including green and golden yellow, with a classic Swedish bonnet with hand painted crown and dated 1799. The cabinet is arranged with two upper doors over a single lower cabinet door. Upper cabinet doors open to reveal 2 traditional interior drawers that are accessible only when the doors are open, along with one shelf and an upper half shelf which is notched, originally intended for the display of family silver spoons. The upper original lock and key remain and hold the door in place. The lower cabinet door is held in place with a wooden knob that turns a simple interior latch. Typical age-related separation is visible along corners and back. Distress to the painted surface, cracks along the sides, scratches, and nicks are present throughout and are consistent with an item over 200 years old. The cabinet has been restored, is strong, stable, and ready for use.
