19th Century Rustic French Oak Coffee Table with Two Drawers

French oak coffee table featuring two drawers fitted with iron hanging pulls. The tabletop is formed from two wide antique planks that show visible separation, along with a deep aged patina developed through long use. Surface wear includes staining, scratches, gouges, and marks all contributing to the table's deep and rustic character. Evidence of old wormholes which are no longer active, note crack along front right corner.
The overall construction remains sound, and the table has been restored to ensure strength and stability. This French coffee table offers practical storage and a well-worn surface suited to rustic or traditional interiors.
