

French Walking Lion Garden Statue, circa 1920-40

This old limestone lion statute features handsome carved details, including the nicely textured mane and facial features. The lion is in a walking position, looking to the right and front right paw on ball. The stone has an expected aged patina and lichen stains throughout. Please note that this piece is solid and quite heavy, and ready to be placed inside or out. All cracks, nicks, signs of wear are reflective of weathered age sitting outdoors for many years.
